It's lag related, no fix until TT.

You can replicate something similar (but not exactly the same) but parking your vehicle near the PT on the out-side of a building, then walking up thte PT and pressing 'e'.
This let's you access the purchase terminal and buy something, but also makes you enter the vehicle.
When you exit the PT screen, you'll be in the 'Jesus position' with your arms out in a similar position to that screenshot.

Most people know this, but it's still kinda funny.
