easy! when being nod, just buy a light tank! i bet your thinking how will that kill it? easy again! drive right up to the mammoth tank and because the mammoth is so high and the light tank is so low, the mammoth will not be able to shoot you! if it backs up, remember how fast the light tank is? the mammoth by itself will not be able to kill you! i love this tactic!

Mammoths are the heavy seige equipment in this game. Anybody that plays RTS's knows there's always brutes, but they always need cover. I usually get a medium tank in the late game if everybody's got mummies. With a medium you just ram yourself into the tank or sit yourself in front of the mammoth and if he's smart he'll know that the missiles curve when you shoot down and he can lob them right over you and hit the tank.Welcome to strategy games 1st person.

After you die and before you can return he's back to half health. You will never destroy it with an MG guy. And that's if he doesn't have engis repairing him.. most likely he will.

you get a stealth trooper, put c4 on the side, wait, 9 times out of 10 they will get out and start repairing, so in the end u get 1500 worth of armour for free.

Not many Nod drivers attempt to ram Mammoths, not that I've seen. Usually they attempt to shoot it out, then charge when they are yellow or red.

The dude's absolutely right, you can waltz into the minimum range of the mammoth, that's its weakness.But just as you're within 45 feet I'll ram you with my Medium tank which has no minimum range and between me and the mammoth you can't get to you'll be toast.Don't listen to Ivan.
