They took it out in the last patch, apparantly there was a bug where if someone got in but then got back out the Harvester would run into walls and stuff. If you can find the last patch, I'm sure you'll be able to do it.

It still works with the new patch, but only with the enemy harvester. For some reason you can't take your own. And you can only get in the enemy harvester if you're standing right in front of it as it comes towards you.
