Hello, Renegade has been one of my favorite games I have ever own. It was always the game I could install and have fun with all the time...It has been installed onto over 6 computers, and removed from them...

Yet now when I try to reinstall, this error shows up (click to see a larger image)

The installer freezes on a map file, around 64%, and this error shows up. I have heard that you can give an ISO to the game if possible.

I will provide any evidence that I own the game and still have the code and everything.

thanks for the help,

Mkt778.

More info:

Renegade has worked on this computer.

The computer is Windows Vista

Directx version 10 (Will be 11 Very soon)

Graphics card: NVIDIA GeForce 8400 GS (Has been upgraded since list setup, and it is MORE than able to run renegade)

Manufacturer: Hp

Sounds like a scratched or otherwise damaged CD to me... there's an ISO download of the installer disk kicking around somewhere which you can use with a valid serial key, I am sure someone will be kind enough to post the link or you could hunt through a few topics in this forum area until you come across it.

The disk is fairly scratched, but it was never a problem up to now...

I will post picture of the disk for evidence.

It could be that the part of the disk that has the installation file required has been scratched after you installed it last time.

I do not have a link to the ISO's to hand, sorry.

Do you know any user that is able to give an ISO link?

Derp.

2 links in that thread for 2 versions of the CDs or TFD DVD. Website seems to be down temporarily though.
