I've only done this once so I'm not sure if it can be repeated, but in a game that I played yesterday we were ahead of Nod by a great number of points and had them down to one building (Tib). Anyways, a teammate bought a mammy and I purchased a Gunner and jumped ontop of the Mammy and went into Nods base surfing the Mammy and killing infantry..... There was a lot of lag and I'm not sure I can repeat what I did, but I'm going to try anyways, plus if it does work, its a good way to get extra Enginners into (or more like, ontop)of an APC for a rush.....

he he hel did that once by accident. Was a engineer and jumped on top of a mammy. I've never been able to repeat it - maybe you have to land just right....BTW - i was quickly picked off by a sniper

LOL! lucky for me the barracks were destroyed at the beginning of the game and they had already lost all of thier good characters.....I was however killed after 1 1/2 minutes because I didn't want to move and well, when you don't move you die

That has happened to me a few times (I play ALOT) as both the driver and as passenger. I do not know how to replicate it. My guess is that driving or riding with your body popping up out of the tank hatch was an option at some point in the game development.

I think it happened because of lag and you know lag does some crazy stuff.....I'm going to try tonight in a non-laddered game.....

In flying you can jump onto tanks from the hand of nod or the weapons factory I've done this before in other levels too, it can be repeated

You know that body pop-out bug? Happened to me, I was a tech in an APC and I could repair it!

I tried that on Mesa, a sniper jumped onto this APC I swipped off Nod. He wanted to use it as a snipe mobile...After getting a few kills a Med tank comes after us. I took off a full speed to get away, he falls off and gets splattered under tank tracks. If only you could stay on, a bit like jumping on the back of a pickup truck in GTA3....make an excellent hit and run vehicle. LOL - be a stealth and ride a enemy vehicle back to base...

if you have the cheat for extras and you get a pick-up truck, right next to the HoN and have engines jump out the windows into the back of the truck. Ive held 4 at a time. Its the FUN way to rush a base
