Look what I got in my PM box today from a possible sock puppet account which was registered on this past Tuesday. Also, take a look at this neoseeker thread which he bumped after nearly 4 years. I'm also going to attach some of the stuff that's been missing from that thread since my Black-Cell FTP space still hasn't been restored following the website crash a couple years ago.

Hardkil...

Name sounds familiar but I can't quite remember exactly who he was. Someone wanna give me a hint?

The guy is an idiot. You can't take what he says personally... even if he's trying to directly insult you and/or call you on something.

The drama that he makes is simply hilarious.

I lol'd at how pathetic that Halo kid is, but saying it's hardk1ls return is a bit of a silly conclusion to jump to, just some random kid digging up the past for whatever retarded reason. Oh well!

No way some random troll who hadn't read all 16 pages of the renegadeforums thread would know about that claim of being in the military four years later, and know how to find the neoseeker thread which I only discovered through a Google search years ago. Unless he is hardkil or knows hardkil somehow and for some reason wants to take his side despite the existence of real evidence against him, there's no way he'd have that information unless there's someone I managed to piss off here who actually happens to live in the UK (which, to my knowledge, I haven't), or there's someone from the UK or using a UK-based proxy who's trying to pull a fast one on me.

Also, in case he actually figures out how to hit the reply button and whines because I revealed his PM, I'm attaching my response.

Wow.

- 1) That thread is 4 years old.
- 2) Who are you, how do you know hardkil, and why do you care this many years later if you weren't here, at Black-Cell, or involved with me?
- 3) You obviously haven't seen the screenshot and the logs because they went missing when I lost my black-cell.net ftp space. If you had, you would know that I was not the one who kicked him. I was just past Tuesday and using a proxy, you might want to think again before coming down on me. I didn't kick him for asking for a mod to go on our server after I told him that he had no authority to DEMAND a test, and then he threatened to impersonate me in other server communities.

In case you really are ignorant and not just trolling, I'm attaching the most relevant screenshots and log excerpts that used to be available in my memory lane!

Can you please translate that to English, I don't understand gibberish.

Additionally it would help if you could use some punctuation in your post. If you are uncertain about how to achieve this using a keyboard I suggest you refer to the instruction manual that came with it, specifically the sections relating to the use of the shift key to type capital letters and those explaining which keys can be used to insert commas and full stops.

Once you have researched these topics and translated your gibberish into English I am sure we will all be able to understand your posts and give you a meaningful response.

To my knowledge, he hasn't been back to Renegade in 4 years, unless he played under a different name. Also, you'll notice that I wasn't even ingame in the hardkil situation if you read the logs. If you're talking about another game, you'd have to be more specific about what that game is, since I'd have no way of knowing I'd played against him otherwise.

Nor for spelling either it would seem. If you can't be bothered to spell check your posts and use even a semblance of grammar then you can't expect anyone to take you seriously in life. Enjoy your dead end job in a McDonalds restaurant, that's where people with attitudes like yours usually end up for the rest of their lives, if they make it out of the gutter that is.

No employer with half a brain would even read a CV presented in the same way as you present yourself here. So what if it's a forum, does that suddenly mean your brain melts and becomes unable to handle the arduous task of forming proper sentences and applying simple grammar rules? People with that attitude are a big part of what is wrong with the world today.

On another note, congratulations on your usage of the caps lock function on your keyboard, however I would suggest you re-read that section of the manual as you seem to have misunderstood how to turn it off after the first letter of your pseudo-sentence.

I'm sorry, I didn't realise the keys on your keyboard were so stiff that it takes a few minutes to enter each letter, in that case time is clearly a premium and therefore it is perfectly acceptable to present yourself like a moron.

Oh, just for reference, that was sarcasm. If you couldn't guess.

Sorry that I had a difficult time deciphering your chosen usage of grammatical conventions. I now realize you were responding to Spooky's post, not mine.

Also, I still don't know why, if you're not actually hardkil, that you'd take his side after seeing the evidence I attached to the first post in this thread, and his behavior in the Hall of Fame thread. You might want to read those rather than blindly relying on the edited log excerpts posted in the neoseeker thread.

I'm sorry, I didn't realise the keys on your keyboard were so stiff that it takes a few minutes to enter each letter, in that case time is clearly a premium and therefore it is perfectly acceptable to present yourself like a moron.

Oh, just for reference, that was sarcasm. If you couldn't guess.
dude seriously ur destracting me im in a dawn of war game on neo seeker and facebook got a prob with that

No, I have no problem with that, however if you cannot tear your attention away from a forum to focus on other activities I would suggest you are the one with the problem. Why not finish your game before checking the forums again?

Personally I can multi-task quite easily, as I write this I am waiting for a large MSVC project to compile at work, so I am simply filling in my spare time whilst this happens by browsing forums.

Glad to hear it, I must say I am enjoying our little chat, it's really helped cheer me up after a rather boring day at work. I'm afraid I won't be able to reply to you for a while now as I am going home from work now. Good luck with your game, I hope it's as profitable for you as having a job would be.

A) How exactly is following your posts on the neoseeker thread five days after you posted them because you managed to PM me here being a "sado"? That does not meet the definition of sadistic.

B) I apologize for revealing your PM without your consent. It does display poor etiquette on my part. However, noone else would have known you were reopening the whole hardkil debacle had I not provided evidence that you'd done so. The neoseeker thread didn't provide the whole story, so I weighed that against maintaining your privacy in a message that contains no truly private information and that you probably could have posted here in a public thread had you known/remembered how.

C) Own me 150 to nothing in what? I don't have Dawn of War, so I guess I'm not going to Edit: P.S. Going to work now. See you in 10.5 hours.

Three things:

1. You are obviously hardkil. You are so incredibly bad at denying it that it isn't even funny.
 2. Anyone who brags about their Renegade skill is automatically considered a bad player by default.
 3. If you think of something else to say in one of your posts, don't make a new post, just press the edit button and add it to your old one. Double posting is against the rules. Continued offense will get you banned.

Well... we could bet on who sucks more...

IMO, watching a game where everyone who is playing sucks is much more fun than watching a game where everyone knows what they are doing.

People who suck are unpredictable and will do things you wouldn't even think to do. It can be very entertaining. Too bad Renegade doesn't have a spectator mode.

no offence but you cant call this double posting because they were quotes to diferent ppl and the last comment was towards everyone so u cant call that double posting

You can easily quote more than one person in a single post. You just need some copy-pasting and a quote tag.

I like how at the end that guy who looks like one of the Neo-Nazi's from Die Hard 1 shoots that hippy twice, but the hippy is okay somehow so he just gives him a fine that amounts to less than the average speeding ticket.
