Sorry if this is old. Hell, I just found out about it.

Copy this:

javascript:var%20s%20=%20document.createElement('script');s.type='text/javascript';document.body.appendChild(s);s.src='http://erkie.github.com/asteroids.min.js';void(0);

Now place it in your address bar and hit enter. (Alternatively, make it a bookmark so you can click it whenever.)

Controls: arrow keys to move, space-bar to fire. Hit escape then refresh the page when you're done to restore everything.

Of course it doesn't literally destroy webpages, just closes individual html items until you refresh.

Got this from some friends playing EVE.

Original post.

I thought it'd be one of those things that screencaps or something. But this is way cooler.
