Has anyone been suffering this issue with MSN 2011?

Just a few hours ago, it says that all of my contacts are offline. But this issue never happend yesterday..

Could it be the fact that the new build is a little buggy? or is it me?

note: i searched this bug and iMeghan ;D

This has been happening to alot of people on 2011 MSN, me being one of them unfortunately- I honestly can say I don't think it works xD

I've been having this problem too.

Live Messenger 11 is the biggest load of crap. I'm amazed that Microsoft managed to take a simple, easy, and solid program and turned it into such a clusterfuck almost overnight, through one update.

Sorry for double post, i couldnt edit it now.

My msn is working

I just done a simple repair (how a stupid twat like me couldnt find out i just dont know) But the password might screw up. So you need a new password.
