Generals claims my graphics card is not good enough to run (i installed DX 9.0C so that is not the issue.)

but not but 2 weeks ago oblivion ran (laggy as fuck but it ran) so how is it generals demands more of a graphics card than oblivion i just dont see it i looked into the issue and somehow fixed it by deleting an unneeded registry file still not sure how that affected the graphics card.

Could you tell me which registry file please? I just remembered my CnC3 doesnt work for some reason even though it used to before. I doubt the problem is related to yours though.
