You scored 41, on a scale of 0 to 90. Here's how to interpret your score:

0 - 30

You're the sociable type and definitely not meant for the quiet life.

31 - 60

Though you can be extroverted, you're also drawn to solitude and stillness at times.

61 - 90

Pack your bags and head for the nearest desert cave. You're quality hermit material.

I couldn't answer question 7 honestly, though... and it wouldn't let me leave it blank.

Also, q.7 was a bit silly. Probably a fairly accurate description, I would say; given that it's reasoning is based on 10 questions -.-

For the purpose of this quiz, we're all mostly uniform. Hmm.

36, but the quiz sucks. 9 questions is not enough to establish a personality-type test like this (especially if two are spiritually-based), and I didn't always get the adequate answer choice.

It wasn't a pure personality quiz tbh because it was only trying to see if you are a hermit or not. Hence, it was much shorter.

That being said, for Q7, I replaced the character they referred to with the sense of great perspective I seem to get when I am alone. I enjoy that a lot. I don't know why that "feeling" would be personified as a "God" but selected choice B on that.
