I am sooooo bored with Renegade right now. Need new maps badly. Until they release some new official maps, I'm sticking with Neverwinter Nights. New modules released weekly! Whaddy think?

Hmmm, what do I play when I'm bored of Renegade? Why, Renegade of course! I've yet to be bored. This is the only game I have played since it came out. Nothing, not my GBA, PS1, or any other PC game has been played by me since Renegade. I really want to get Neverwinter Nights but I will wait until I get bored with Renegade. Could be a long wait.

I agree with the maps complaint... we need some new ones or actually some servers that will actually serve them up. Westwood also has a lag problem. I dusted off my old Unreal Tournament CD last night, installed it, downloaded the new patch and was online... 3500+ servers (not sure if they were all online), many different types of games being played (CTF, DM, TeamMatch, etc) and I tell you, the ping was very low (~45) and very playable. I also was missing maps and I was pulling them from the game server at 230KB/sec! This was on more than one server. I don't understand why there are so many servers for UT, and Quake 2 and not for Renegade. Some Renegade games I play, the lag is not that bad. Then someone joins and boom, the connection goes to the crapper. It's as if the person with the high ping affects everyone else and that SHOULD NOT be happening!SuperTech

ill have to say unreal tournament, i need the blood spillin, man now those r good graphics, i love it when u snipe sumone in the head they fall down and all there is on a wall is a blood stain, i looks soo kewl, also if its one of those 12 player maps and all the actions in on room and u lok at the room once its done its coverd in blood (and it looks realistic aint no fake lookin) oh and the player bodys stay there for a while, few minutes i belive, really great graphics on that game, better then renegade i would say, only reason i liek renegade is cause its a C&C game and its based on the C&C universe, lol, thats pretty much it
