Whilst I was in work today me and my work partner got chatting about girls/women as you do and we asked each other about different races of women and whether we had preferences about if certain races seem more attractive then others and we both came out and said that we find Asian women very sexy. After that discussion died down I asked around and 8 out of 10 guys agreed with me/us...

So my question is why do we (myself included) find Asian women so attractive?

I can pull up (more or less) any picture on google of a Asian women and she will just seem very pretty to me.. I can't say that about white women/black women or any other race.

I hope this doesn't sound racist because thats not my intention im just generally curious as to what makes Asian women attractive to you, if you agree of course.

In the end, I'm sure everyone has certain quirks that they like for their ideal partner, but in the end it should be the personality that matters, looks only end with you unhappy.

Some Asian women are beautiful to me, like I am not sure what the difference between some that attract me and not others.

I live in a very multicultural part of my country (whites 50%, south asian, east asian, middle eastern, and blacks make up 50%) I think European and South American women are the best. I don't mean to be racist, I believe all races are equal (blah blah) and beauty differs from person to person, but I find Asian (east Asian) facial features to be generally unattractive. I like big, coloured eyes on women and I'm not a big fan of Asians' very-straight black hair. I like volume. I'm also not a fan of their generally flat noses. That's just my personal preference - anyone who disagrees with me is not "wrong" of course.

That's not to say I like all "white" girls either. I personally don't find British and Nordic women attractive either.

And there's always exceptions, and in reality, I probably won't be as picky.

I dont find asian women any more attractive than whites on the average. Ofc ive seen an attractive asian on many occasions, but i dont have a preference.... i mean that an attractive asian is not more attractive than a good-looking white person..

being in australia, we arent really exposed to alot of black people in everyday life, but ofc with internet/tv its not like i have anything against black people, its literally just i havent been exposed to much of that culture, australia is quite sheltered in that specific aspect.

when i lived in america for 6months last year i was exposed to this alot more (living in DC). I think i tend to find black women kess attractive on the average, and i dont know if thats just lack of expouse to their features or i just dont like it i think an asians body shape is also quite attractive on the average. they tend to be small, petite and thin which most like, when i look around uni, rarely do i see a fat asian girl, especially when looking to see fat white girls.

as for a funny something, my work colleagues friend has a korean wife. Who is really nice, but without realising the veru UNpolitical correctness of some things she said, this was a facebook post: "Got haircut today. My boy hairdresser was good. He looked like a gay though. Look forward tio next haircut!"

A gay, male hair dresser What a travesty lol. We all cracked up at work. Shes only lived here for 6months or so and hasnt quite got everything worked out man this topic sounds racist but its really not the pretty ones are very pretty and the ugly ones are downright offensive. i think their pretty/ugly ratio is one of the worst following aborigines and some arabs.

I hear of a lot of people who like Asian women.

Personally though, I don't really find them to be all that attractive. And I don't mean that in a discriminatory sense, so please don't take it that way.

I mean, it's one thing to say "oh look, she is pretty" but there is no way I'd ever go out with an Asian girl.

JohnDoe is an araboriginie
i think a lot of guys like straight hair, and asian women tend to have very straight and long hair hair matters more than people notice

that and they're generally more fit and in shape than other ethnicities (imo)
if i try picturing an obese asian woman it's somewhat difficult
