with aimbot and stuff. I swear in some games(sniping games) there are players that list over 30 to 40 kills. like one shot one kill.. head shots all day long. even close range like in tunnels and stuff.. NO ONE IS THAT GOOD!

You really must be new. Or are incredibly stupid. I am "SHAMED" when I get such low kills in a sniper game.

30-40 kills in a game is nothing to a half decent sniper.

You don't have to be a sniper to get those kill amounts. A lot of games, I like to drive around in an APC. Not only do I act like an airport shuttle; I get a large amount of machine gun and squish kills. Plus it's a very distracting thing when an enemy APC is driving around in your base.

Hil'm having big trouble finishing the single player version of Renegade. Although the game thus far has been quite easy, I'm stocked in the mission where my objective is to destroy the Temple of

Nod. Apparently I need the Ion Cannon Beacon to finish of the temple, but the beacon is a weapon I haven't seen since the training mission. Is it somewhere on the map or do I have to go several missions back to acquire it??? RegardsPatrick Denmark

Personally, I don't care if I spawn kill or not. I simply don't go and camp within a stucture to shoot someone who does indeed spawn. If I am in Complex for example, and am on Nod, and are at the sniping vantage point in the center of the level. If I see a unit in the Barracks, I will snipe that unit regardless of what he/she is doing.Tough luck for that person.Finally, yes, 30-40 kills is extremely possible for even moderately skilled snipers. Perhaps you would like to speak to Lukazan, or MrCod on the subject? [October 12, 2002, 17:13: Message edited by: Javaxcx]

Oh I remember this question. The Ion Cannon beacon will be airdropped in when you've knocked out the base's power and communications centre - just approach the temple doors (watch out for the stealth tanks waiting for you) and it should come down.

Thanks, but I've knocked out all of the Nod base, including power plant, communication center and all other necessary buildings, but the doors won't open. There's not a single enemy left, and I've toured the whole map many times to search for a clue, but I must have missed something, even though all my objectives seems to be accomplished. I got the green, yellow and red keycard.

You know, I'm a good sniper. I get alot of kills and work hard for them. But I have found that these guys with "80 kills in 25 minutes" play on servers where the n00bs rush to thier deaths like lemmings. It's easy to kill n00bs. It's boring too. Play someone else with good skills and your 75 + kills will drroooooooppp like the IQ's of the guys who run WSE. I go mega kill n00bs when no good players are on. I like smoking losers like ursniped2 with a deadeye, when he claims to be the best and won't give up his *ed Sakura, or leave the tunnels. He won't leave the tunnels, because the n00bs don't rush like lemmings in the field. I've said it before, and I'll say it again, TUNNEL WARS ARE NOT SNIPING. They are infantry wars with more powerful guns.

I get the "you have an aimbot" thing alllllll the time. I think it's hilarious, because I kick thier asses with my 56k and mechanical mouse. They swear I'm cheating because they have a laser mouse and DSL. It's not the equipment kids, it's the operator. One motivated man with an M-1 Garand (WW1) can do more than an idiot with an M-16.

They are infantry wars with more powerful guns.While I agree that games were 70+ kills are more or less just n00bs running like lemmings, you cannot assume in a normal game however, that everyone will be sniper for your benifet. That is why ADM would get so many kills in a normal game, and get far less in a sniper only game. If everyone is just a simple GI, then sniping isn't hard. But then again, that was probably the reason sniping was introduced to the game, "To eliminate the smaller units from reaching your base". Sniper to sniper can be fun, and so can sniper games. High numbers of kills can be made in both, it depends on the skill of the person, and the usage of time given. Just remember that Renegade was not made for strictly sniper to sniper combat.

simply walk or drive toward the temple. it will be there. you don't have to set it, it will simply cut to the end video for that mission. once you have the power down, if you have your mammy, drive it down to the temple if not, walk there(watch for 2 stanks if you didn't kill them yet) as you approach the temple(get in close) a power up and an ion will appear. just walk over them and it's over.

I never accuse people of cheating whether I think it or not. I'm still very new to MP so I don't know all the ins and outs of it yet, but I definitely knew that this should not happen. And often, the seemingly invincible unit just stands there and takes my lead while he calmly aims at my poor little bobbin' head just sittin' there on my silly shoulders waiting to be blown clean off by some yawning, thoroughly unimpressed freak who is actually unkillable. To me this says that they know they're invincible. Have they found a way to purposefully exploit this so-called "glitch"? I just knew it!! Well - i've been called a cheater -because -i've done headshots with a PIC or Ravie --Taken out $$$ characters with a gernader or flamethrower..(or shotgunner - people that back up into corners are DEAD meat...)-blown up three MRLS with one C4.-blown up 5 people with a timed C4-run over people with my invisible tank...-planted C4 on the heads of snipers...-playing with n00bs...(oh - secret of the PIC/Ravie - stand still when shooting - you can take alot of damage - and you can hit them cleanly... LOL)StoneRook out....
