When it comes to posting spam on forums, I take hours and practically run from one board to another looking for an inane and offtopic message that I can post. There are a lot of people like me who would literally get confused on what to write, when they are attempting to be annoying. This turns more awkward during special occasions like n00bparty and Reneversary, when preparations will be going on in full swing, and you still keep wondering what to say for that special moderator to delete. I would say, take time and choose wisely, as that message can speak a lot about your relationship with the community.
