Why would you want to use C4 on a Humvee or Buggy?It doesn't work. AndJust run them over. How about posting a better tactic next time.Something like:"Three stealth black hands are good for taking out buildings undetected on the map Walls. Provided the doors to chosen building aren't mined. Get other people to work with you."

if u place 30 remote C-4s placed all on the front of a vehicle and use the vehicle to stop the harv in it tracks and either; hop out and detonate your C-4 of have and ally drive to save the vehicle and you will kill the harv in a blink of an eye

Place Prox c4 on your buggy or Humm. Then drive into someone and watch em blow up! Works well if you put em on your teammates with friendly fire off

...while enemy technicians/hotwires/ppl with beacons enter your base, not stopped by any serious defense...Great plan!

Even though this would only be in a perfect game. Get all of you team together and rush the base at the beginning of every level.....they can never be stopped.

I hate teammates who put c4s on stealth units and stealth tank.... This makes the stealth useless....although i put c4s on other stealth units when C4 is placed on the enemy and they jump in a vehicle, the vehicle takes the damage. if the vehicle they get into is a hummer or buggy, it'll blow up, and also do damage to their character.

That part is where you want to force your hummer/buggy mines.

I checked it and it only takes 20 remotes in front of the buggy, ram your buggy head on with the harv 20 remotes go boom harv go boom.
