i love doing this. buy a stealth tank and just as normal hop in the a free engin. make your way to the enemy base but dont let yourself be seen(on maps with AGTs ive managed to sneak in and have AGT shot and no one notice.) once inside dont attack just yet, pause and look around and make sure no one is home. pull up to a door of a biulding and hop out, quickly mine mct and hop in. hold for a second or attack something else before u attack the main target. lob a few volleys at the target u mined, hop out and set off remotes and hop back in. timed mine should do the rest. the people trying to defend will be pondering how a biulding fell to 4 shots of a stank.

Yeah, that is nice for a tech, and is cheaper too, although its hard to pull off in 40player servers. But if it did, man would it be lovely
