Hey guys, it's been a long time since i've seen some of these names on this forum. I haven't played Renegade since April of 2004, just before my son was born. I thought that westwood shut down all the server's and stuff, and no one played anymore. I'm glad to see people are still playing it. Renegade is and always has been my favorite game.

Still alive man. Still a decent playerbase, too.

Westwood doesn't exist anymore. Servers are now run by XWIS at <http://www.strike-team.net/>
Serial registration and account creation is now located at http://xwis.net/control_panel/

If you need any help installing and updating, check the stickies in the support forum or ask. Also, keep in mind that 4.0 is still in BETA and that some crashes may occur. Posting these will help fix the issues
