Unfortunately you are a few years too late, no respectable and active clans exist in renegade anymore. However there are still several communities that have large player bases so if you are looking for team play on teamspeak etc. I suggest you head over to Jelly-server or n00bstories.

There are a few more but I wouldn't rely on their life spans.

I would say that the only active clan now a days is the Renegade section of WNx, you'll see a lot of us about in most of the popular servers.

Feel free to chat to some of our members.

wnx isnt a clan, its a community

clans play CLANwars on a regular basis

WNx is a very large clan that doubles as a community it has a Renegade division and has had one for a very long time whereas clanwars.cc is a single league made up of different individual Renegade clans
