as i checked irc just a while ago i noticed server had crashed the debug says its in tt the crash happens when the bot kicks someone that has been banned or at least it seems so

If you do think it is kicking a player that causes this, have you at least confirmed that? I'm not being rude, but it's not our job to figure out what code you screwed up that's causing your server to crash, so at least help us out as much as possible by narrowing it down.

i didnt write the bot

i think its the kick because it crashed twice in a row after it kicked a banned player i only ask TT's help if the crash occured in tt.dll i know that TT crew has better stuff to do that help me with my problem

What I'm saying is that you should repeatedly start the server, kick someone, and see if it crashes immediately after so that we can actually confirm that is indeed what is causing it. It's quite simple, whether you wrote the bot or not.

is using my bot and i partially know the issue, but idk how he could pass first check (the connection filter), second check can cause this crash, gonna debug it and fix.

robbly, you could contact me over irc as i'm the creator of this bot, you don't have to post here edit: bug is now fixed.
