As many of you know...I have tried a few times to put together an infantry only league. I figure it's time to start from scratch.We will be creating the rules and trying to get already existing clans to participate.I dont expect a big response...because no one on these boards has ever seemed to be able to do anything more than criticize...but any help would be appreciated. Either reply here or PM me and we'll see where it all takes us.Help from Dante, Christine or Blazer would be greatly appreciated on this part...but I'll probably ask them in n00bstories chatperhaps set up a CTF league as well...since the coding is out and maps are beginning to come out...anyone got at least an opinion on the subject?

There is already 1 CTF clan. Make another one so we can get some matches.
