Okay if you are going to hijack the communities server machine after selling the community to volcom you obviously don't care about the community you only care about your own damn self. That being said you do not deserve the name or have any claim to it. I also want to say fuck you because you have caused a great deal of stress and down time for my clan TP(thepeopleclan) fucking up the vps that I rent from rencorner.(I know it was indirect but still...)

The VPS you had wasn't hosted on a "community" server machine. It wasn't really hijacked, more like a power struggle which got management from the datacenter involved.

I never shutdown the entire server having you experience a downtime, and I never wiped the whole server. Focus your anger to the people responsible for that.

That right there(VPS) was crap, admittedly. Himself and Destroyer lost so much of their work during all of it. If there was one thing I would change throughout all of this, it would have been that.

None of this wouldnt have happened if you would have stopped your drug& alcohol addiction. Then selling your entire community for $1500 is beyond selfish. Now you got what you put effort into though. Basically nothing

None of this would have happened had you used a real VPS provider, like linode.com

Or you could fuck off with your advertising and also those VPS's are not quality. I get 4 xeon cores, 3gb of ddr3 ram, 120gb hard drive. I do not have to share my cpu or ram with anyone so this is much better. Shared cores and ram cause can many lag problems with game servers.

Edit: This is not a good deal:

lol dude are you mad? you do realize the only reason I say choose Linode is because I use Linode and pay an overpriced $20, but they don't delete my server because of petty drama LMFAO also, not sharing cpu cores and ram is simply because you're on a "provider" that doesn't have more than 4-8 clients lol

I have a pitiful 20GB hard drive, but Linode techs don't randomly try to delete my shit

My shit didn't randomly get deleted I was told that I need to back it up and I did then it was reformatted. Your provider gives you some of the worst vps's for the price I have seen. Have fun running just one game server on your vps. Maybe you need to do more research before renting such crap. <http://www.solarvps.com/windows-vps/#launch-windows> - This is a million times better than your provider. I can name a lot more vps providers that destroy yours.

And in the end.. Still, no one cares. Ethenal is correct. I would rather pay $40 a month than have my shit deleted.
