Or in euros:

Was: €19,99 (€14,99 or cheaper at a lot of other places; Steam default price is expensive in comparison with others)

Now: €5,99

Red Alert 3 made me angry

there were Megazords, boats that instantly turned into airplanes, other boats that grew feet and crawled on land, and attack bears running all over the damn place
if you piss Russia off, it throws satellites at your shit

i highly recommend it

The only reason I have it is because I got it for free as an apology from EA for the bad service received in relation with other C&C games and Origin. I never enjoy it as much as the classics hence I never bothered buying it. I think you can easily fit my RA3 game time in 1 afternoon. At least it is still a way better C&C game then C&C4...

RA3 is an awesome co-op game and arguably Tim Curry's best acting performance since Dr. Frank-N-Furter.

Best C&C game in the entire series.

Ra3 is the reason why I stopped buying C and C games...

interesting Goztow; it's the exact same for me

one of the only reasons i got RA3 anyways is because the version they had at Best Buy included the soundtrack from Frank Klepacki, who's pretty much awesome despite EA's best efforts

i have the soundtracks for C&C 1, RA1, Tiberian Sun, and RA2 as well that and i still own a stealth tank and mammoth tank and other things
