Hot on the heels of the mostly-successful scripts 4.1, Tiberian Technologies is releasing Scripts 4.1 patch 1. This is a small bug fix patch designed to correct an issue relating to some weapon related anti-cheat code that cropped up in 4.1 final.

Clients (including new clients who install scripts from the TT installer after this release) will get the update automatically through the TT updater.

The official Tiberian Technologies download page will be updated with a new server file soon but for now I have attached it here.

Those shipping 4.1 as part of a mod can simply replace the 4.1 final bandtest.dll with the one in the attached zip (its the same dll for clients and servers) bandtest.dll is the only file that was changed. No changes to mod tools are required, nor has there been any changes to the source code (so no you dont need to recompile any plugins for "patch 1")

Big thank you to Zunnie, ExEric3 and the others who helped me track down this issue.

Due to a mistake on my part, I accidentally uploaded the wrong dll (the old dll, not the one with the fix in it). The clients will get the correct dll from the auto-updater. Server owners can get it from the attachment to this post.

The download page will be updated with the correct dll soon I hope (it wasn't updated with the first wrong dll so there is no issue there)

Unless something else critical shows up, this dll I posted IS the final release of scripts 4.1
