Whoever sold you your computer parts should have told you that Athlons aren't compatible with RDRAM (Rambus).

You should also have realised that multiple processors will only have an effect on applications that are coded to use them. I.e., not Renegade.

You pay $160 for a connection that only gives you 100kbps upload bandwidth? I'd like to meet the man who convinced you to pay that much for a sucky connection. ^_^

If you don't want your server to lag, don't host an 8 player server on that much bandwidth.
Common sence, my friend.
