You can reply to the last person who paged you (paged, from outside the game, not page inside the game) by typing '/r message'

kawolskyis there a quicker and easier way?

As everyone else has mentioned above, you can type "/r <message>" to reply once you have already been paged.

Alternatively, i guess you could use RenAutocomplete if you're regularly paging different people outside the game. Set a preset to replace "pdave" with "/page daver0x93". Just make sure you don't have autoenter on so you can still type your message. I've already setup loads of preset shortcuts to locate/invite my mates into the game.

You can page people using either F2 or F3, it makes very little difference.

To page people outside the game:

Press F2/F3 and type "/page playername message".

To reply to an outside page:

Press F2/F3 and type "/r message".

To easily page people within the same game:

Press F2/F3, type "/" followed by the first letter of the playername, then press space (this will autocomplete the playername). Follow this with the message itself.
