YanoThe ads are most annoying, consider getting you own server and domain?

thats because its free but if you look at the bottom and you will see how to get rid of the ads
although it costs

If you want your own forums, get hosting on Lycos - its free and its php, so you can install phpBB
and they load faster aswell

I'm planning on getting an own domain name once my current host decides to shut down his site/his ISP goes bankrupt or my community exceeds its limits (which'll take atleast a few months hehehe)

Atleast beware of all the scamsin this bussiness, $1 per year + domain name + 500mb + 3gb bandwidth + 100% uptime = scam, bad service and a dying company
