Please try to connect to:

n00bstories.radiantx.net
dom-guild.radiantx.net
dominion.radiantx.net
207.44.173.3

You know how to do it. I've noticed that a few regulars haven't shown up since n00bstories.radiantx.net went down, so connect through that. And if you're new to the community, download http://www.mirc.com as your chat client, and configure it to that address.

Lets keep that room booming people.

File --> Options --> (In connect) Add --> Fill out appropriate information, and in the IRC Server box, put that IP address. The port should remain 6667, unless you're a special case. And the group just leave alone.

Click ok, and so on. And connect. Then go through the options as you see fit and fiddle around.

Thanks for posting this, Java. TreyD is working on the DNS and it should be working soon. I don't have a site to post that on at the moment.
