its a way to win especially if you are losing what i hate is when say Nod are losing they have like 7 SBH's nukes on the ped lol i stand there and think..."no fukin chance" but what i really hate is when you are losing / winning and sumone beacons the ped and you team are so freekin stupid they never chack the ped especaily if the barcks/ hand is all ready dead

I must be a retard, because everytime I place the beacon on the pedastal, even if it's DEAD CENTRE, it doesn't end the game. Even when win by pedastal is set to ON.

I love all nuke/ion events recently because I've started using Blazer's Countdown mini-mod. (No it's not cheating) thz2, they might have disabled the beacon on pedistal thing on the server. You can choose weather or not to have base destruction or pedistal placing to win.

I place beacons on pedistals often. But I only play on larger servers, so the action is definately a challenge. If you cannot, as a team, defend the "win" pedistal, then you are probably going to lose anyway.

It just means that teamwork was lacking. If you don't like it....Find a different server no using the beacon ends game option.

they think that no-one would be stupid enough to try and destroy a destroyed building, but their the idiots cause they don't think about the pedestal.

beacon win is nice...but it's over abused when it's turned on. I hate it when a team is winning and then beacon wins...it's just stupid...
