Correctly writtern it's Nod and GDI

Nod is a name, GDI is not.

It's Nod, because it's the Brotherhood of Nod. (name, not abbreviation)

It's GDI because it's an abbreviation, Global Defense Initiative.

And why do you have to bring up someones name who isn't in this thread. I don't see a post from ACK here in this thread... do you? It's posts like this that have no place here.

Don't mind him when he says that. Just ignore it. he just likes to correct what he thinks is "incorrect grammar".

He was corrected in a different thread, so this wasn't out of the blue. In reality, trolling the forums to correct people grammar is kind of petty. maytridy is right, the only way to deal with it is to ignore it.

You're trolling them as well, considering the only useful information you ever give is when someone tells you to lay off posting in threads where I do to annoy me.

AircraftkillerYou're trolling them as well, considering the only useful information you ever give is when someone tells you to lay off posting in threads where I do to annoy me.

I'm not sure I follow you. You weren't in this thread and no one asked me lay off.

I have 50 total post now; I must be a hardcore toller. :rolleyes: I challenge anyone who is tempted to believe your ramblings to go to my profile and select the "Find all post by..." and check my post out for themselves. I had to go back 10 just to find a thread that you were involved in. That's where you blindly called someone a Dickhead, remember? I know, that could be one of dozens of your recent posts. On my way through my posts, I past several where I directly helped people and most of the other's are positive comments about peoples work. You do know what a positive comment is, don't you?

Since our post counts are not equal, let's compare percentages of post to positive comments, helpful information or, better yet, non flame involved threads. You take part in hundreds of flame threads that I have nothing to do with. Yet, in the small percentage of flame threads that I am in, you're there too, but the difference is, I'm standing up for the people you are flaming. It's so sad you find that annoying, but such is life. Most of the time they are not even flame threads until you start posting. Is that a coincidence? It's not hard to see. You do the math.

[EDIT]You are right about 1 thing though. The information I posted about ignoring you is "useful". Wait a sec, did you just sneak a positive comment about me in there? You sly dog, you!

First off, don't play innocent. You're obviously speaking about me, and one could logically infer that trolling in the form I mentioned doesn't necessarily mean that you had to be in the same thread as me. It also means that you would find other ways to be an ass, and merely jump on the mention of my alias.

So, lets see, fifty posts. That's quite unremarkable, especially considering a good number of said fifty posts are about me and how you dislike what I do. So, using your own words against you, why aren't you ignoring me?

This just in, pots all over the world are calling the kettles black!

Yes, yes, I know. I'm not as holy as you are. I do nothing to help others, that's why I've spent over a year doing it, whereas you spend a few months hounding me about how special you are and how much you dislike me. Go take the short bus to school, if you're so special, kid.

One other thing to note: I don't control your actions. You make your own decisions, so don't sit there going "If you didn't flame others, I wouldn't have to as well." You're not a savior, nor are you the champion of all that is right. You're just as flawed as anyone else here is, mister pot.
