I have a cable modem and every so often it just stops working for no apparent reason. This is a pain in the ass as it keeps me from playing renegade. It might be my isp but I doubt it because it works then stops over and over again in a period of like 30 minutes.

It wouldnt be a perma down as with an isp so I guessing the fault is on my end.

Can anyone help me? I really want to play renegade!

Try to goto your Internet Settings and check if the is a timelimiter (e.g. it sais interupt connection after xx minutes)

You can also try to use a tool, that simulates 'aktivety' I think one of them are namend Stayonline or Staialive something siliar to that.
