Hey! I just started to start modeling for guns in gmax. My dad is picking me up a copy of 3D max 5 from his work, and I will start to use it soon. Right now I use gmax, and have a basic knowledge of it. Usually I program (I know C++, HTML, and BASIC) but this seems like a cool thing to start doing! If anyone can help me get started I would really appreciate it! My AIM is DefconBladez, and my email is skatin_revelation@yahoo.com.

Yeah, some really good tuts there.

Not too hard to do weapons, as long as you can model and skin them.

Imao

haha.....i would really like to find that gun that havoc uses in the video with the battle on the cargo plane.....where Havoc battles Sakura. It looks really cool. There's prolly a w3d somewhere.....

I doubt there would be because westwood used CG rendering for all of their videos so unless it is in in-game movie it's not likely that you will find it. It would be cool though if there was one.

You mean this gun?

Thats the one!

If we can't find it.....maybe someone will model one.
