irc.n00bstories.com -- yes, that's right, we have complete control of it now. It's on a dedicated server jointly owned by myself, Blazer, and djlaptop. This server has been hosting n00bstories.com for over a month and is now hosting these forums with its 2 GHz processor and 512MB of RAM.

We'll most likely be linking to DOM Guild's IRC server soon so that we'll all be back together again.

Until DNS propagates, if you can't connect using irc.n00bstories.com, use the IP, which is 140.99.186.4.

As always, the Java Applet is updated --> <http://www.n00bstories.com/irc.php>
