Do you believe EA ruined renegade? Does it piss you off thinking they cut Westwood off? Or maybe the fact that they closed most support for the game so that they could rush E&B. I think EA owes this community a load of patches/updates to the game. We wasted countless dollars combined for this game and what did they do for us? Took our money and ran. Pretty pathetic, that a company would like to make an impression on the gaming community like that.

Simply sign Yes or No !

Yes they ruined it.

No I don't believe they did.

I like to think of it more as EA, like the giant beast it is, ate Westwood.

It tore it up, and ingested it bit by bit, absorbing what it needs as its own, and leaving what's left as discarded waste to move on.

I still think it's funny tho ...

In a year where they make record setting high revenue, they still make a cost cutting decision such as this ... seems they don't give a damn who they put on the streets

LOL did your clan plant friendly beacon in OPS' base during blueyonder?

How can my whole clan plant 1 beacon?

First of all how would all 16 of them fit in the 8 slots that were freed for the clanmatch?

Second of all, planting a beacon in the other teams base and leaving the game is a 1 man action, not a team operation...

So stop soiling [NST]'s name and just leave [NST] alone

Lach[NST] Took full responsibility for his actions, if you want to blame someone for it, blame him, not [NST]

BTW: i wasn't even in that clangame and had nothing to do with that N00b action, so why do you keep bringing this up everytime i post something?

EA ruined Renegade because they never had nor never will have the intention of provideing continueing support to its current users as far as they are concerned they brought the game now they can ps off!

I really really hate EA and there corporate jackass's. Westwood was a good company till they came around and "intergrated them".

WS was shut down because they did not turn out a profit. Stop making a pathetic attempt to be RATM heads and think logically.

Say you work in real estate. If you only sell 5 houses for a year...what happens? Does your company throw you a bone? NO, you get fired because you get paid more than you make for the company. If you dont turn out a profit, you aren't worth keeping around because you're going to screw over everyone else.

Bullshit! Nobody forced them to buy WS and they knew what WS is worth. There is to justification for completely downsizing it.
