I'm currently writing out a long list of reviews for every map I can find, as well as a link to the site where it can be downloaded from...though not directly to the download. I'm going to ask permission before I use this as anything but personal use. I currently have 162 .mix files and 55 .pkgs. These came from various locations...mostly from renmaps.com and cncammo.com. What I need to know is if anyone thinks they know where I can find more maps.

My map list can be found at:

Quote:siege and gigantomy should definately be put up...they are WS quality and have less exploits than some of the original maps.

LOL

hey, you cant base to base in Siege or Gigantomachy. Other than that there's a few small errors that I've run into once or twice...but you get that in any WS map.
