

---

Subject: French=Freedom

Posted by PsY on Wed, 25 Jun 2003 06:11:32 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Whats the whole Idea of changing French To Freedom in food? I mean, now we have Freedom Fries, Freedom Toast, and a few others. I dont even think they were actually french in the first palce. Were they?

---

---

Subject: French=Freedom

Posted by KIRBY098 on Wed, 25 Jun 2003 12:42:45 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

It's a gay, knee jerk reaction by senators who probably have never served a day of service in the U.S. military.

They have no idea how hard it is on our people serving when they go ashore and get made fun of, and are attacked over gay crap like this.

---

---

Subject: French=Freedom

Posted by spotelmo on Thu, 26 Jun 2003 06:53:23 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

it actually started in a small diner, a few idiot senators got word of it and made national news by having the cafeteria in the capitol change the names also.
sometimes these people just don't realize how stupid they really sound.

---

---

Subject: French=Freedom

Posted by Nodbugger on Thu, 26 Jun 2003 08:00:15 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

You do know they did they same thing during ww2. Ever wonder how frankfurters made the transition to hotdogs.

---

---

Subject: French=Freedom

Posted by Epeyon on Thu, 26 Jun 2003 18:50:19 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

not really and they were called frankfurters cause of the guy that created them :rolleyes:

---

---

Subject: French=Freedom

---

Posted by Nodbugger on Fri, 27 Jun 2003 02:10:02 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Epeyonnot really and they were called frankfurters cause of the guy that created them :rolleyes:

ok since I dont know you Im not going to call you a dumbass, even though you are. You must have misunderstood me. The only people that still call hot dogs frankfurters are people who lived pre 1935.

---

---

Subject: French=Freedom

Posted by Epeyon on Fri, 27 Jun 2003 15:07:56 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

hmm good point yup you're right :oops: and that's really stupid o change it :rolleyes:

---

---

Subject: French=Freedom

Posted by setstyle on Thu, 24 Jul 2003 03:58:51 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

The whole name-changing is utterly horrible. France didn't want to go to war with Iraq for its own reasons, but because their ideas conflicted with ours, America's leaders aimed to erase any good images of the French from our minds. Warm, sunny days in the annual carnival no longer have the word "French" associated with them (you don't go to the food stand for French fries anymore). It's all in an effort to change our opinions, or at least supress some good ones, about France through the elimination of possible influences. Additional propaganda can furtherly turn our friendly thoughts away from France, and America can then do what they want to the French, with us as its uncomplaining tools. Don't let your own thoughts mean nothing - don't give in to this.

---

---

Subject: French=Freedom

Posted by Azrielstoneheart on Mon, 28 Jul 2003 22:00:46 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Oaky, I have to ask. Why exactly do we need the french anyway? What exactly are they doing for us anyway? And why did they stay out of the war? Fear? Paranoia? Perhaps public opinion? Funny how the french are real quick to jump on the multi-million to billion dollar reconstruction contracts in a war they wanted no part of. The french are merely interested in what they could get out of the situation, not what they could do to help. I don't know about you, but I hate coniving cowards more than anything else. The french screwed themselves, and that is why they've become the butt of just about every joke around here. Besides, they aren't doing anything for us anyway, so why do we need them anyway?

Why is a french rifle so valuable?

It's never been fired and only dropped once.

---

---

Subject: French=Freedom

Posted by setstyle on Mon, 28 Jul 2003 22:14:38 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

The French indeed aren't quite well looked upon, nor do they deserve to be. However, to change the name of American products just because of it gives off a look of idiocy. As stated before, this act parallels to such ones in the World Wars. Instead of silently covering wooden signs with new, plastic ones, there should be a sense of openness between us and our leaders. Why is it being done? To make America look good?

---

Subject: French=Freedom

Posted by Yano on Mon, 28 Jul 2003 22:26:01 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

AzrielstoneheartOaky, I have to ask. Why exactly do we need the french anyway? What exactly are they doing for us anyway? And why did they stay out of the war? Fear? Paranoia? Perhaps public opinion? Funny how the french are real quick to jump on the multi-million to billion dollar reconstruction contracts in a war they wanted no part of. The french are merely interested in what they could get out of the situation, not what they could do to help. I don't know about you, but I hate coniving cowards more than anything else. The french screwed themselves, and that is why they've become the butt of just about every joke around here. Besides, they aren't doing anything for us anyway, so why do we need them anyway?

Why is a french rifle so valuable?

It's never been fired and only dropped once.

^^^^^^^^^^

This guy knows what he is talking about!

---