Correction, there is a 4th of July in Canada. Its just that its Independence Day is not on the 4th of July like here in America.

So Happy 4th of July people. Time for me to blow off some fireworks.

John Shaft nailed it. You all DO have a 4th of July, the same as we do. It's just that we use today to celebrate getting away from those damn Brits while you guys just have another boring day.

Happy Independence Day!!!

Well, I'm not from USA but your example inspired Brazilian Independence on 7th of September 1822 and you were the first ones who recognized us as a free nation.

That's why you should go to the Boston Pops. Those are just a smidge bit bigger than your little crap bottle rockets .

LOL. The big huge fireworks that make big bangs kick ass, but bottle rockets are okay I guess.
