I found this quite funny. While I was ruuning thru the tunnels as a Gunner this guy name dakracken pasted by me as a Tech and was proceeding to our base. So I easily mowed him down with my Rocket Launcher and proceeded to Nod Base.

As you see in the picture, he pm's me to call me a asshole for killing him. I laughed my ass off.

<http://www.n00bstories.com/image.fetch.php?id=1316374104>What happens when you try to set up two refineries. They just keep coming!

Frost the Snow Man. The funny thing is, he actually worked as a turret.

Seed'n'Feed. Was made for the Chicken Mod.

Chicken Mod also.

Engineer pleading for his life, by repairing the enemy.

There are some more, but I don't want to get too carried away.

HAHAHAHA, I like the Frosty the Snowman one. I want to know though. How did he work as a turret. Would he just like shoot the enemy or did he have a funny way of defense like picking you up in the air and throwing you far away.

Well, he could never pick you up and throw you. But he did turn, move his arm up and down, and shot tank shells out of the end of it.
