I was bored and wondered what people thought of these, of course I made them; using Paint Shop Pro and Photoshop.

DUDE!!!

They all rock!

*hail almighty banner maker.

I haven't ever seen much better work than this.

They look great! They just don't seem to fit the n00bstories layout though. They're too vibrant compared to the sites blander look.

I'm still sure i have seen the 1st and 2nd's background somewhere before..
..looks like you just added the text.. (on the 1st and 2nd)

*Aprime highly doubts that ADM'd do something like that.

Hey, I like simple. It makes it easier to get around and find what you're looking for. It will look much better when I finish the redesign.

However cool those banners are, I would prefer to hold strict to the Nod/GDI theming and those banners, color-wise, are team-neutral.

Don't mean to insult the your choice in layouts. I was just comparing the layout you use (which works just fine, no complaints from me) to the extravegant layout ADM used. And as the two are right now, they don't mix well with all the colors ADM used and the lack of colors you use (once again, no insult to your choice intended).

No problem, I'm happy to help in anyway, if it comes to graphics.

What if I were to make a more 'suited' colour scheme for another banner?

That would be fine... I already have a randomizer coded, I can make the banners randomly change. Just please use the same size as the other one.
