I was just in the FoD server and oen of the hosts boots me for saying he was boned because the other host booted someone for wall jumping. Man I hate it when jackasses get control of servers.

If you have a problem, maybe you should post it in their forums, not here.

<http://www.forcesofdiversion.com/forums/viewtopic.php?t=355> says...

This is the place you go to post problem players or discuss why you may have been banned from one of our game server.

When you post, include the game or server name in the title.

ex: FoDSvr01: Problem Player <name>

ex: FoDSvr02: Why was I banned, I want to play on your server.

Just a simple title so the proper people will know to look at the post.

Also in the post include the date the event happened and the time with your time zone when ever possible.

Thanks,
[FoD]

Then read the server rules:

<http://www.forcesofdiversion.com/forums/viewtopic.php?t=356&sid=5f70aa31a194611e3e258873fb446213> The server rules are clear and easy to remember.

Then go here and plead your case.

I think "the someone" you were arguing about was banned because they stole a teammates tank. Not sure, but I was on the server when some one was banned for arguing with a moderator in regards to stealing a tank.
