I got bored so here are all the pics I took today. My blue cathode light covers up the light from the green LED fans on the rear, I'm planning on getting rid of the blue and putting in a green one.

Whered you get that image for your desktop?

Mine is a basic Dell. Nothing special. Its actually all the same as when I bought it except for thr RAM and Graphix Card.

I forgot where, I see if I can find it agian for ya. I don't buy PCs I make them I like to build them my self because I don't have to settle for any thing I put what I want in there, also I know whats in there and so if I ever run into a prob, I'll have an idea whats wrong. I'm thinking of making another PC in this case <http://www.eugeneargent.com/case1.htm>
