I have one....but only one. I'll give it out to one of you, but don't know who it should be. Are you both planning on running a dedicated server (ie on 24/7) and how many people can you host lag free?

You can't play Renegade and run the Ded server at the same time it will cause MAJOR lag.

IF you do just about anything and run a server, on the same computer and possibly network, it will lag horribly.

It is best if you put your FDS on a seperate PC than the one you are playing Renegade. That will reduce the lag.

You have to have a SPECIFIC SERIAL to go with YOUR OWN WOL LOGIN.

You can't just give out your FDS serial..

if worse comes to worse, you all can trust me not to fuck you over, give me your login info, and i will reg you to get an fds serial. this is no biggie, and i won't even see it, as it will be sent to your email, not mine.

if you have a problem with giving me your nick & pass i understand, but like i have said countless times, i don't want your nick/pass, i have 8

That's what they'd like you to believe, but it's not true. Back when Lurker and friends were hitting my server, I was having to switch login names to get back online and I found out the I didn't have to switch serials. As long as it's a serial number issued to an FDS, then it will work with ANY username.
