Straight from Dante:

Saturday Evening (PST = GMT-8)

Features:

Full Expansion Setup (independent, but you must own Renegade)

Custom Patching Utility

Independent WOL Listings

Joined Chat Rooms With Renegade

Working Thief!!!!

Working Spy!!!!

Custom User Interface

Custom Menu Music

Custom Hud/Reticle

Custom RenAlertFDS for Win32

3 Maps:

C&C_F ForrestOfIllusions

C&C_Zama_Flying

C&C_DM_Isles

Features up and coming soon:

GSA Support (New game listing with independent chat rooms)

RenAlert LinuxFDS

New Maps

New Models & Map updates

Bug Fixes (cause there will be some of course)

RenAlert Mod Tools

Skirmish Maps

SP Maps (currently under consideration by the staff)

Chronospheres

Radar Domes

FlameTowers

SuperWeapons

And Much Much More...

We'll be patching in new levels from myself as time goes on, along with unit additions, unit remodels/retextures, and more features. Just wait until you play the expansion pack. You'll love it. Patching utility is an automatic process, much like Westwood's patching utilities for C&C games.

Yeah you need to own Renegade in order to use the expansion pack. It is basically another installation of Renegade that contains all of the Ren Alert stuff meaning that it is not installed as a PKG file or a mod as such. It's similar to the way counterstrike is for halflife, using a copy of the engine but with custom content. I'm not sure if this means a custom always.dat file too but I guess thats possible.

I think this will be great when it is released. There should be a bug report tool in my opinion so that we can report errors and help improve the modification. If this hasn't already been implimented then a form such as the one in Planetside that allows you to fill in where it occurred and other stuff about the bug then it sends it to the mod team. I'm sure that has been considered and implimented though already.

Great work guys, hope the mod shows off your hard work.

TWO QUESTIONS:

1: Will we have to un-install the public Beta version first?

2: Why not include Keep Off The Grass, if for nothing more than a little variety? Or would it need additional work first?

I think they're just getting rid of all the old Renegade stuff, and they have a completely new always.dat. They're also going to have a new set of mod tools for RenAlert, which seems to be a copy of Leveledit with the RenAlert presets.

Cause I didn't want to go yo work on friday or today. As you read I said that I had to go thru another hard day at work. The point is i didn't want to go thru a hard day at work. I rather stay home and chill.

But see Krazyfoxx gets to stay home on friday and chill. That bastard.

obviously if it has been developed by the makers of BR.net and also based off the original FDS I would say there is a fairly big chance that it will be compattable. If not I'm sure that will be added anyway.

Knowing the differences in the RenAlert FDS, I am pretty sure there is no reason for BR.NET not to work.

After trying to figure out what you said, I figured you are asking why no one has said why it was delayed. Well, if you would have read every elses posts before spouting off at the keyboard....

"Due to BOTH Zama Flying AND Forest of Illusions being fucked up, we're holding off on the release.

We will NOT release a modification with only ONE level in it.

As we speak, I am working as fast as I possibly can to fix up both levels and make them work properly. Zama Flying will be done within three hours.

Forest of Illusions is next, vis solve will be ran, dynamic culling will be done.

We'll be done either tomorrow or Monday.

I am deeply sorry for the delays, but this is what happens in the gaming industry. Rest assured we ARE working as quickly as possible to get this done with.

There were supposed to be two C&Cs announced in July. One was Zero Hour, but the announcement of the other was put off, it was on the Generals boards somewhere.

I really doubt it'll be an FPS though - They cancelled Renegade 2, there's really no chance that they'll pick it up again.

spreegemTiberian Twilite?? What's that?

Tiberian Twilight was what fans started to call a sequel to Tiberian Sun, following the pattern (Dawn, Sun, Twilight).

It was just a name made up by the fans, but chances are Westwood/EA picked it up because many domain names including <http://www.tiberian-twilight.net> forward to their (now destroyed by EA ) site.

There was something in PC Gamer magazine that talked about another C&C game. It was a Q&A section. I think it was something like...

"Q: Is there going to be another Command & Conquer game?"

"A: Ho Ho Ho!"

I don't know if that's what it said exactly, but it's something similar to that. So that might be a sign that TT might come around the holidays. No, it won't be Zero Hour because it's scheduled (SP) to be released earlier before the holidays.

There is an addon for C&C Generals coming, that could be the other C&C game. But I don't think we'll see a true C&C game again, EA will probably stick it on another RTS game.

To me C&C mean tiberian, tanks, refineries etc. Generals has nothing to do with the others and that's why it isn't a proper C&C game. There using the C&C name because it stands for "Command & Conquer" meaning you command units but it has no real relation to the rest of the series.

On the Ren Alert forums, ACK said he fixed the problems in the maps and sent them off to Dante around 7AM yesterday morning, so either Dante didn't have the time yesterday, they're adding some more new features, or they encountered another bug would be my guess as to what's going on.

AircraftkillerOkay, it's like 7:57 AM, I've been up all night and day working on this fucking thing...

Early yesterday morning, I sent off the new level files for Forest of Illusion and Zama Flying to Dante, along with the new Turret I made up.

It's in his hands right now. I don't know where he is or what he's doing, but he's presumably at work right now and will be back home later to continue working.

General HavocQ: When will Ren Alert be released?

A: When its done.

Whilst you are waiting why not play some MINI RA?

_General Havoc

Nah, I'd rather reinstall the real/complete/original/yougetmypoint Red Alert again.

Like other people have said, all of the mod team members do a have a life outside the internet. Jobs, family, and other responsibilities take priority, as they should. Dante is most likely the most overwhelmed of us all, with 4-5 projects within the C&C community going on right now. We were ready for release, but due to an unexpected corruption error in generating the final package, we've had to re-do the maps. Would you like to download a 200mb file and it not work at all? We didn't think so.

All they have to redo are the maps, they don't have to redo everything.

Re do the actual level. From my experiance is it really easy to screw up a lvl file. A wrongly configured script can cause the map not to load. A missing preset can also cause this. They probably had to re-do the lvl file from a earlier backup more than likely and that means setting a lot of things back up including scripts and waypaths etc. The vis generation and things like that are CPU intensive processes that can take hours to do and you have to be 99% sure everything is setup correctly before you can start doing that or you have wasted hours of vis generating to find you have a forgot to add something.
