Hi guys! Hadn't been here in awhile, (system problems, upgrade, and just got SWG) and thought I would pop my head in too see how things have been going. What's been happening and shaking around here lately?

Very cool that ACK and the others released the Renegade Alert mod finally, congrats too all those who put the time and effort into it. And what's the deal about this cheat I have caught on here?

Ermm..I don't think anyone really knows exactly what the cheat is. Only that it is really bad.

GREAAAAT........

Oh well I have today off so I'll look in every now and again kinda curoius on how Crimmy is going to handle this. (I have the utmost faith in her abilities)

BTW Crimson, if you read this, hows thing going between you and Blazer? Still well I hope?

Still excellent. He got a job at Cisco keeping some servers running for the Networking Academy. I got laid off from a promising web development job, but now he's trying to get me a job over at Cisco as well.

Re: the cheaters -- I will be posting today.
