FoDSvr02, Forces of Diversion's sniper only server now has a ladder page.
On this site you will find the rules, map rotation, a screen shot page (I may change to a download page for any mod maps it might be running) and the ladder itself. Click on the pic

I am working on enhancing the site, but it isn't bad. There is also a link to here and [FoD]'s forums. I will add links to other sites as I update.

The site is home served, so I can't go to nuts, but pointers and suggestions to improve the site are welcome. Just remember, fire fighting is my profession, not web design.

I will now try and get the damn ranking system in BR .Net to work with the page.

Crimson, could you please show me how you put that search option like you have for the ladder? plz plz plz plz plz

==
DJLaptop, if for some reason you see this... the error:

Quote:Run-time error '524':
The filed 'stats.playerName' cannot caontain a Null value becuase the Required property for this field is set to True. Enter a value in this field.

Means you have a bad result file. Like when a game starts and BR either crashes or the game ends before anyone gets points. This is a bug needed to get looked at. RenStat stops updating the ladder once that happens.
(I also posted the bug on his forums)

I was curious if you could do this for your 24 player server as well? It would be great as it's the only server I play on now days...It was also anouncing new maps for today and no new ones are on there yet... could ya shed some light as to what new maps are going to be in the rotation? Thanks.

I had 2 months of results on there over the weekend for testing. I reset the ladder last night.
