I was on a 24 infantry only server tonight when a individual came on and in matter of minutes had a 45/5 k/d ratio I may be wrong for doing this but the individuals nick was cryop3n15. This is my first time running into someone actually using a cheat, but it was definitely a cheat.

So, with it being your first time running into a cheat, you assumed that a high k/d ratio meant something other than the fact he Own3d ya? lol

N00b player gets own3d

n00b sees high k/d ratio of killer

n00b screams "CHEAT!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!"

I'll admit, it's suspicious, but unless there are some skillful, and known people in the game to back up what you said, all that can be done is to keep an eye on him. For all we know, the server was full of unskilled players. Even I can get an unusually high (for me) kill/death ratio if thats the case.

you know forums are to be used to share information, but when a person comes in and tries to share info all you critics do is try to shoot them down. I have been owned by many and have owned many myself but if you would have been there you would have seen someone killing harvy in a couple shots and the 45 kills was in maybe a 2 minute span. You can knock the subject all you want but for all the people that was there and seeing the majority of the opposing team SCREAMING cheater and there were many a familiar name who are not new to this game. Crimson do me a favor and delete this post cause when a person tries to give name to a cheater who has the respect of many players then when others come in that try to do same i will just flame yours saying you just a n00b getting owned.

Must..... stop..... need..... air.....

One word, PUNCTUATION

Anyway there is no point arguing your point out like that, of course we will look out for this player, but there is no way we are going to brand hmim or her a cheater because of one person's account. Yes, you could be telling the truth, but you should take screenshots. The only way people will fully believe and back you is with proof. And punctuation.

Wo, ur right. i just check on Dictionary.com, but its a place.

Quote:1 entry found for grammer.

grammer, IN

Zip code(s): 47236

"shut up" is not a word, its a phrase that includes real words. :rolleyes: :rolleyes: :rolleyes:

I don't give a rat's ass about the time it takes for a 56K user to download my signature. It is well within the borderline for size. Same with my avatar.

Hypocrisy: The practice of professing beliefs, feelings, or virtues that one does not hold or possess/

For this to be true, he would of had to say something along the lines of "you can't spell" he didn't, all he did was say that shut up is not a word, but a phrase made up of real words.

Javaxcx"Shutup" is not a word, champ. You can look at it any way you want to, it still doesn't exist.

Originally, "tomorrow" was "to morrow", as well as "yesterday" was "yester day".

Who knows, but the year 2100, it might be "Shutup"

Perhaps it will. It would allow the braindead spawn of the future to lazily justify their lack of pressing that big white bar at the bottom of the keyboard.

I remember a while ago, some one posted there was a big head mode cheat around everyone called him a n00b etc.....

Until it was offically anounced that there was!

Moral of the story: Don't jump to conclusions
