I read the Renguard site and saw Crimson is trying to spread the news. Well, I am too. I am using my old clan site now as a site for many Links and news in the Rene community. I have pointed out RenGuard and can't wait until it is released and these cheaters are stopped. I was not playing for awhile because my cable sucked and I was having a talk with a friend who pointed out all the cheaters. Once then I started playing again and could not believe how many cheaters is out there. It ruins the game, and when they are noticed. They get banned. But I'm spreading the news
