But it is dead.

There were 60000 people on this game when it came out

Now theres less then 1000

Every new game that comes out will take more people untill there is No one left.

All the good people left the game that means its dead.

z310why do u still play it then?

because I am waitin for halo

Some of the good people went to savage. That i have no interest in.

The others moved to halo beta but i cant play that because it does not support radeon vid cards

So im playin renegade untill the retail version of halo comes out (september 30)

Ignorance is bliss.

Whether or not the game is dead, we don't think so. You, however, continue to visit the forums when you "know" they're dead.

Smart. :rolleyes:
