Hey, I need some quick advice addressing a virus, norton tells me it has located a virus in C:\WINDOWS\System32\WINCFG.SCR, it says access to file is denied and is unable to repair, the virus it has identified it as is Backdoor.sdbot a type of TrojanHorse, I search for this file and tried deleting it and I am unable to, also I cannot move it. It says date last modified 7/25/03 and am curious why I am just getting an alert, and if maybe norton is acting up or something I dunno what do you guys think?

The thing odd about it is that I think that file is a Default screensaver (can tell by the ending of the file SCR right off the bat), the one that has the microsoft logo phase in and out, someone go into my comp and modify it or norton just act up?
