The installer is on the original discs.

Unless your discs are scratched, in which case, didn't you learn your lesson after re-buying the game once?

You can purchase a new copy of the game for $10 - $20 depending on where you buy it from.

I'll burn you a copy of both CD's and mail it to you if you can pay for the shipping and the cost of the two writables via paypal. I just think this is stupid because you claim you've purchased it twice now. Do you store your CDs in the microwave?

hmmm, Why do people always complain about this? Discs gets scratched, its the way of life , anyway, if this would happen to me, i would just go get a new set of discs, i would have complained if the game was still $50, but its not, its only $10 now.
