You should add the pics of its creation to the gallery...so people can tell how long and hard you worked on it...plus I think at least one or two of the nearly-finished pics were better quality than the ones in the gallery.

/me gets in line to buy eleet logos from JeffLee

As the first recipient of JeffLee's handiwork, I can attest to the quality of his work.

Bleh... the whole you must be 18 thing is easy to avoid.

The part about either having a credit card or an email address from a service provider isn't though.
For some reason they don't like @ntlworld.com emails.
Now I gotta try and convince my papa.

Wait... you can sign in using a microsoft .net passport thing?

Hooray!

Wait... no hooray. Even though it lets you use that passport thing, it doesn't like hotmail accounts
